The Fulbright Program

The Fulbright program was founded by United States Senator J. William Fulbright in 1946 and has been considered one of the most prestigious scholarships in the United States

The program provides approximately 8,000 grants annually, comprising roughly:

- 1,600 grants to U.S. students,
- 1,200 to U.S. scholars,
- 4,000 to foreign students,
- 900 to foreign visiting scholars, and
- several hundred to teachers and professionals.

The Fulbright Specialist Program

Fulbright Specialist Program is the smallest and most selective of these programs, and is open for U.S. academics and established professionals to engage in two- to six-week, project-based exchanges at host institutions.

Recipients must be U.S. citizens; have significant professional, academic, or artistic achievements; cannot have lived abroad in the past 6 years; and cannot have been employees of U.S. Department of State or U.S. Agency for International Development.

Each year this program supports around:

- 400 Specialist projects,
- in 24 Eligible Disciplines
- in 160 Countries
